LCIA MORNING SEMINAR IN TEL AVIV

Tuesday 26 June 2018
Sheraton Hotel, Tel Aviv

SEMINAR FORMAT

In the 125 years since its founding, the LCIA has grown into one of the leading institutions for international commercial arbitration, administering some 300 new cases each year, including a substantial number of cases from Israel.

This event is designed to provide both those familiar and those less familiar with the LCIA with an engaging insight into the policy and practice of the LCIA, through an interactive interview session with several key members of the LCIA community.

The event also aims to provide an insight into recent developments in relation to the LCIA. One such development is the recent change to the LCIA’s tribunal secretary procedures. On 26 October 2017, the LCIA introduced changes to the tribunal secretaries section of its Notes for Arbitrators. These changes emphasise the central role of communication and consent in appointing a tribunal secretary, and ensure that parties are given the opportunity to have their say.

To demonstrate the new tribunal secretary procedures in action, the second half of the event will feature a role play, in which prominent members of the international arbitration community will take on the role of arbitrators and counsel.

LUNCH FORMAT

Following the seminar, lunch will be hosted by White & Case, where we will discuss the recently launched findings of the 2018 QMUL/White & Case International Arbitration Survey.

The survey explores “The Evolution of International Arbitration”: how international arbitration has evolved, the key areas for development in the future, and who and what will shape the future evolution of the field.

Full details regarding the survey can be found at https://www.whitecase.com/arbitration-survey-2018
